Subject: Folloing up: Scott Pruitt interview with CRTV

Good afternoon,

Just wanted to follow up on my invitation for Mr. Pruitt to interview with CRTV's White House Correspondent Jon Miller to discuss the record-setting environmental rollbacks have cleared arduous regulations that hindered American business. This would be a taped, on-camera interview at a time and location that works best with his schedule. Is there a day this week that will work for him? If not this week, when do you think you'll be able to fit us in? I really appreciate your time and collaboration on this.

Best,
Alicia

Good afternoon,

Nice to e-meet you! My name is Alicia Hesse, I'm an Associate Producer at CRTV, and I would like to invite EPA chief Scott Pruitt for a taped, on-camera interview on Friday, July 7 at a time and location that works best with his schedule.

Our editorial angle is simple: Mr. Pruitt's record-setting environmental rollbacks have cleared arduous regulations that hindered American business for far too long. We want to tell those good news stories.

Our White House Correspondent, Jon Miller, would be conducting the interview. He's a former producer for John Stossel and Glenn Beck. While we may be an underdog startup media network, we think we're the perfect fit for Mr. Pruitt, and I know our audience wants to hear more about ways the Trump administration is putting America first.

Is there a time on Friday that would work for Mr. Pruitt's schedule? We can conduct the interview in our brand-new studio, located on Capitol Hill at 601 New Jersey Ave NW. We are also happy to come his office. If Friday won't work, what time next week could you fit us in? My cell is (Ex. 6) feel free to give me a call to discuss further. I really appreciate your help on this and look forward to collaborating with you.

Best,

Alicia Hesse
