GREETING FOR MRS. NIXON

Dirksen Hits Demos Before GOP Women

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told 1,100 Republican women Wednesday night that "never were the destroyers and traitors in government so busy" as during the 20 years of Democratic rule. He said it has been no picnic for the Republicans to sack out the wreckers and destroyers the country risks and homogeneity, the "blatant" and "brutal" the traitors and wreckers' government. Sen. Dirksen, chairman of the National Republican executive committee for the fall elections, addressed the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women, terming them the "greatest mass political and political force in the land." "Most of my speech was devoted to lambasting Democrats past and present including Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson. Of the period of Roosevelt and the New Deal, Dirksen said: "The grim god of war had returned the New Deal from its long, disastrous failure. And upon that fateful, fantastic, history completely there was a bloody splash of which no sane and righteous man would boast because so much of America's progress, the young men—come back in golden hours. This was part of the great 20 years." Of former President Truman: "When Mr. Truman sent his economic report to Congress on Jan. 1, 1948, he said, 'The people of the U.S. have enjoyed another year of beautiful prosperity... unemployment... the level of 2 million.'" "Actually it got to 2,620,000 in February of that year... by February of 1950, unemployment had soared to 4,700,000. That was more than 7% per cent of the labor force. Nobody was crying piteous and down. Nobody was shouting to open up the public coffers on a public works program. We were taking it in our stride."

Tom Paine's Marble Bust Wins Display

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tom Paine has won his fight to stand with other revolutionaries on the list of Independence Hall. Through the intervention of Art Conklin, the display of a marble bust of Paine, a monument to the revolutionary, is to be put on public display. Conklin, Paine and author, is completing a book on the national figure whose vital role he helped spur the nation's drive for independence. Conklin is also sponsor of another city museum, the Edgar Allan Poe House. The art commission's rules require that all likenesses on display at Independence Hall be of artists contemporary with the subjects. But after an eloquent plea by Conklin, City Property Commissioner Martin E. Roisman gave for a waiver of the rules. It was approved by Shirley Stevenson, landscape architect, who told Conklin: "I enforce everything you say." The six-member commission voted unanimously for the motion.
