environment where there was asbestos being released into the air, you would not have warned workers back then, would you, about those hazards?

A I would have warned -- I may not have explained each and every hazard, but I would have changed -- worked to change that environment so those hazards no longer existed.

Q Well, isn't it true, sir, that if you had been back there at that time, your position is that what you would have done is you wouldn't have told them anything because you would not have wanted to unnecessarily frighten them or affect their productivity in the workplace?

A No, that is a misconstruction of the tone of the area that you are reading from in that deposition.

MR. HOFFMAN: Well -- Your Honor, if I can --

A We were asked in that deposition what the current philosophy of that time was, and the meaning of that conversation was what the current feeling was
