Hey there Rick! Is there a good time to give you a shout today about perhaps getting something on the calendar in the future? -Tate

Liz: Our calendar got filled for the 13th and I think attendance will be light on the 20th. If you guys could send me an accomplishments sheet for people to use for writing pieces, I will make a two-minute presentation, distribute it and encourage articles to be written extolling the EPA's virtues in rolling back economy killing regulations.

Let's get out from under the Christmas rush and try for after the first of the year, so I can get some of the groups and writers to focus on the end of the first year of the Trump presidency story which obviously occurs on Jan. 20th. If Administrator Pruitt could come on any of those Wednesday's at 10 am to Judicial Watch's office that would be ideal, if his schedule doesn't allow it, then just tell me who you guys would send so I can make it happen.

Thanks,

Rick

Nice to meet you as well; we will work on getting someone from EPA to Groundswell. What is the location?

FYI – We have another one coming for publication tomorrow. And my VP of Public Policy, Robert Romano will be attending an EPA related meeting at the White House on the 13th.

Is there any chance that someone from EPA would be willing to provide a briefing to the Groundswell group on Wednesday between 10 am and 11:15 am? I've held a hole in the agenda for you guys if you want it. If not that day, we could schedule it for the 20th, when I am moderating, but I cannot guarantee our normally robust attendance of leaders on that pre-Christmas date.

Please let me know and keep up the good work.

Liz: Please expect to begin getting Americans for Limited Government's statements and daily distribution of pieces we write on a variety of limited government topics, including one's of interest to EPA.

Also, would you please provide my email address to your colleague who was with you, so we can connect as well?

Thank you,

Rick Manning
