Dear Customer:

proposal The Food & Drug Administration recently published proposal temporary tolerances on polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB) in animal feed ingredients. The attached release covers the details of this temporary tolerance which has been set at 5 parts per million for ingredients in animal feeds.

Some customers have also requested certification from their ingredient suppliers that material being shipped contains no more than 0.5 parts per million PCB (10% of the FDA proposal tolerance).

The purpose of this letter is to certify that MHA®, Santoquin® Liquid, Santoquin® Mixture 6, and Santoquin® Emulsion being shipped meet both of the above requirements.

We trust this answers any questions you may have. Thank you for your continued interest in our products.

Yours very truly,
