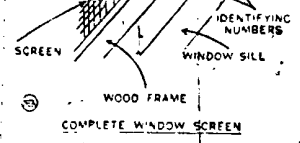
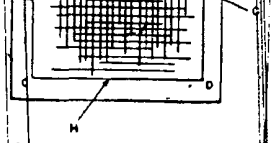
The Khufu Pyramid of Gizeh was more than 480 feet high, built in 4,700 B.C. It is the largest of many Egyptian pyramid tombs of kings. And Egypt was a land which used size again and again—in its tall obelisks, its giant statues of kings, its sphinxes and temples.

Greeks used proportion and color rather than size to gain their ends in most of their work. Their statues were painted in bright color when new. But the Colossus of Rhodes was one of the wonders of the ancient world. This huge statue was said to be 70 cubits tall—more than 106 feet if the Greek cubit was the measure. It was a lighthouse and ships sailed between its feet into the harbor. An earthquake felled it in 224 B.C.

Rome went back to size. The huge Colosseum was about 170 feet high. Trajan's column was 100 feet, as was at least one of the great Roman baths. The Romans built big buildings, aqueducts, arches and other monuments all over the empire.



COMPLETE WINDOW SCREEN



screen with a coat of screen enamel or spar varnish thinned with turpentine. Paint the frame, also, to help prevent deterioration.

Small holes in the screen can be repaired simply with a "patch" of screening, placed over the hole and woven to the screen with a strand of wire.

G and H. With this done run a sharp knife close to the outside edge, trimming away the waste screening. Renail the molding with ¾-inch or 1-inch brads.

Then go over your new screen with enamel or varnish to get a head start on next year's work, fasten at D, tacking along edges

Glendale Man Is Contest Winner

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—A Glendale, Calif., architect was named yesterday as winner of a nation-wide mission church design competition sponsored by St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer.

The top award, a $1,000 United States Saving Bond, went to S. S. Granger. It will be presented to the Californian by His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago, on the closing day of the 1949 National Catholic Building Convention and Exposition.

The college is sponsoring the convention Jun. 14-16 at Chicago as a goodwill service to Catholic institutional builders.
