To: All Employees at the
Lake Charles Plant

It is with a great deal of personal satisfaction that I notice you have reached and passed May 19th without a lost-time accident. This date marks the completion of a six-month period without a lost-time injury and entitles you to receive proper recognition for this accomplishment.

You are well aware of my interest in safety; however, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you again for a good record established and to wish you well in extending the length of time without a lost-time injury. I would also like to mention again that safety is a subject of vital concern to top management as well as plant supervisors and all plant employees. We review with pride good safety records.

My hope now is that you will go forward to win the Hutchison award, and that you will not stop at one Asplundh award but will continue a good safety program which will provide each of you with many Asplundh awards.

With best wishes for a continued successful safety program.

Sincerely yours,

C. K. Ballard
Manager of Production
