

November 3, 1927.

Dear Mr. Adams:

I am enclosing three checks amounting in all to $5,000, all of them drawn to the Harvard School of Industrial Hygiene, which does not actually exist as such a school, but I suppose you can nevertheless collect them. This money is given to be used under the requisitions of Dr. Joseph C. Aub, and is to be added to the previously existing Lead Fund. I am acknowledging the check for $2500 to Mr. Clinton H. Crane, the President of the St. Joseph Lead Company. The other two checks were sent to Dr. Aub and forwarded by him to me, and he has acknowledged them. I shall be indebted if you will acknowledge receipt of these checks to me.

Very sincerely yours,
