Mrs. Anna Warren of 565 College avenue has three sons in the service, two in the navy and one in the army.

Albert, the youngest, has been in the navy for more than two years and has been in actual combat. When at home on his last furlough, he was wearing three stars on his service ribbon.

Garry, who graduated from Palo Alto High School, took his training in airplane mechanics at Modesto Junior College and had several months of practical experience at Mather Field, Sacramento. He is now a mechanic on a four motor bomber in a photographic squadron.

John, the oldest of the three, was in the medical detachment station hospital at Camp Cooke for a few weeks. He was made a corporal and transferred to the Fitzsimmons General Hospital at Denver, where he is training to be a laboratory technician.

Foreign policy panel

A discussion of the foreign policies of Great Britain, Russia and the United States will be given by Prof. Carl F. Brand, Prof. Harold H. Fisher, and Prof. Thomas A. Bailey tonight at 7:30 in Memorial Hall. The public is invited.

Professor Brand will outline Britain's needs for peace, Professor Fisher will discuss recent trends in Russian foreign relations, and Professor Bailey will speak about America's chances for participating in some form of postwar organization.

WCTU meeting

One of the "strongest delu-

much a part of the show as the play. Included among the ollos are a comic strip tease, as performed by the newly discovered Ram's Head star, "Brunhilda of the Burlesque"; the traditional women's chorus number, the Can-Can, and popular songs of the 'Nintles bearing such titles as "Don't Go in the Lion's Cage Tonight," and "She's More to Be Pitied Than Censured." Novel specialty numbers will lend to the atmosphere of comedy, and original song and dance routines will be featured between the scenes of the heart-rending melodrama.

Costuming, stage design, orchestral arrangements, direction, all but the script of the melodrama, are the result of student talent—a feature so characteristic of Stanford's annual Spring Show. Tickets for the performances will remain on sale throughout the week. They may
