Asbestos

Mr. G. A. Reamer — January 9, 1975

During the past three years, pipe coverers who are "regularly exposed to asbestos" have undergone annual health appraisals, and no asbestos-related abnormalities have been detected.

As you know, asbestos is rapidly being replaced by fiber glass in the pipe covering operations.

If cell renewal employees are regularly exposed to asbestos, they should be medically monitored in the same manner. This can be accomplished by presenting a list of such individuals to Ms. Doris Rice in the Department of Medical Services.
