FYI. The Shanghai Health Study was highlighted during this high level meeting. This was a very good opportunity for us to heighten awareness of the study to key people working on Shell's involvement in China.

Patsy

Just a note to say thanks for your input for the China workshop, and the main benefits were that all concerned got a clear picture of a big and important Shell investment in Shanghai, probably the biggest the company is making!

Note the reference to the China Strategy Review - worth us knowing about.

Gentlemen,
Thank you for your participation and contribution at today's workshop, I wish you find it useful and interesting as I do. Below is a quick summary of the actions for all of us:

1. In view of contributing to the upcoming China Strategy Review, which will be presented to CMD on 19/20 of July and Conference in early September:

- 1 or 1/2 page project/business plan description as input to the Country Review cover note (Action Party: All)
- 1 Slide to summarise your project/business plan (Action Party: All)
- Financial Input format (Action Party: Henry W to send to all to fill in financial data of your project/business plan)

Deadline: for sending all the above to Shell China (Henry Wang) and ID is April 1, 2004.

2. To promote information sharing and keep this network informed:
- Xiaowei to send out the presentations of the workshop by COB March 10;
- Henry to include the workshop participants on his monthly country summary distribution list;
- Nick (copied on this e-mail) includde the workshop participants on his distribution list of OGP and other relevant Chinese Industry e-magazines/briefings (Nick - Henry and I porpose this as a means to keep the network informed, appreciate your help here - particpants are mostly representatives with new business entry plans to China);
- To share learning and relevant information and link other people in Shell who have a business interest in China to this network (Action Party: All)

Once again, thank you very much for your presence today and look forward to your timely contribution to the China Review.

Nice weekend!

Xiaowei

Warm Regards,
Liu, Xiaowei
