...it would not impair freedom of the press, but "purify it of its imperfections." Two leading Santiago newspapers, El Mercurio and El Diario Ilustrado, endorsed the bill editorially. El Mercurio said it only applied to a few "exceptions" among the newspapers and would not harm the "legitimate privileges of the press."

HILGARD TO WASHINGTON

Dr. Ernest A. Hilgard, executive head of the Stanford psychology department and president of the American Psychological Association, will fly to Washington Sunday night to take part in a two-day meeting of the Human Resources Advisory Committee of the U.S. Air Force, of which he has just been made a member. In this capacity Dr. Hilgard will serve as an expert consultant to the air force on personnel and related problems.
