This 63-year-old white male was admitted to the hospital on 4/23/92 because of severe anemia. The patient has a long history of having had anemia. He has been worked up on numerous occasions and he does have a long history of GI bleeding. He had received several units of blood and his hemoglobin continues to drop down. He had a Billroth II, two times. He has had numerous bouts of GI bleeding and has chronic gastric ulcers.

On examination, the patient was markedly pale, weak and complained about abdominal pain. His hemoglobin was low at the office and the patient was advised that he needed admission for blood transfusion.

The patient received two units of packed cells, when his hemoglobin was noted to be 5.9. Dr. Orsini and Dr. Scoppetuolo were called in consultation. He had a bone marrow done and this showed a normocellular biopsy.

His other tests included a GI bleeding scan with RBC tag. There was a negative GI bleeding scan reported and failed to show any active bleeding area at this time.

The patient had other tests done including total iron. The folate acid level was 18.3. His iron binding capacity was 233, which was low. His saturated iron was 94, which was somewhat high. The patient had been taking iron at home. His ferritin was 2,073, which is elevated. His B-12 was 902, which was in the normal range.

The patient also had other tests done, including hemoglobin and hematocrit which showed a hemoglobin of 5.8. He had a giant platelet count. His hematocrit was 18.6.

The patient received several units of packed RBC's and his hemoglobin came up to 8.9, with a hematocrit of 27. The platelets were normal.

The patient continued to have some weakness. His abdominal pain seemed to be better. His stool for occult blood was negative.

The patient, after being seen by Dr. Scoppetuolo and his group, was discharged home. He will be referred to the Hematology Clinic at the Medical School where he will be worked up for other possible causes of his anemia which should also include the possibility of a red cell dysplasia which is the most likely diagnosis.

The patient is well aware of his diagnosis, also of his further evaluations. He has already had a complete upper GI and lower GI evaluation with no help. The patient requested that he be discharged home so that he could set up an appointment with the Hematology Clinic and get further testing done.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS:

- 1.) Anemia secondary to some form of GI bleeding, secondary to red cell dysplasia.

REPORT REQUESTED REGARDING: anemia

SIGNATURE OF ATTENDING PHYSICIAN [Signature]

M.D.

The patient is a 63-year-old white male whom we are asked to see in consultation regarding severe anemia.

The patient's history dates back to approximately 10-15 years ago when he underwent a Billroth II surgery for peptic ulcer disease. The patient has been stable up until recently when he was found to have severe anemia approximately four to six weeks ago. He was admitted to Clara Maass Medical Center and underwent a bone marrow that was essentially normal with good iron stores. The patient also was transfused at that time and had a workup that included B12 and folate levels that showed adequate levels. An upper endoscopy apparently was performed that was negative. He was well and was discharged home in a stable state. He was readmitted back into the hospital at this point when his hemoglobin had dropped down to 7. He was seen as an outpatient, and it was felt that the concern was that the patient may be having some GI bleeding. He thusly was admitted to the hospital for a bleeding scan. We are asked to see the patient in regard to concurrent care. He denied any vibratory or sensory deficits in the lower extremities and denied any positional or cerebellar complaints at this point.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY was significant for his Billroth II for peptic ulcer disease. He carries a history of chronic gastric ulcers.

MEDICATIONS: Zantac alone.

REVIEW OF SYSTEMS: As contained in his HPI.

ALLERGIES: He denied any allergies to medications.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION: HEENT: Pale conjunctivae. No palpable lymphadenopathy. Lungs: Clear. Heart: Normal S1 and S2. Abdomen: Soft. No masses or organomegaly. Neurologic: Intact.

All laboratory studies are pending at this time.

ASSESSMENT: Severe anemia, possibly secondary to gastrointestinal bleeding. Also must rule out the possibility of B12 deficiency or early myelodysplastic syndrome or red cell aplasia.

PLAN: GI bleeding scan, B12 level, iron levels. The possibility of the need for a colonoscope must be considered or an upper endoscopy if this was not previously done. We will await reports of his blood work before deciding on any need for any transfusion, etc.

Thank you very much.

REPORT

G. I. BLEEDING

DATE
April 23, 1992--vc.

A G. I. Bleeding study was performed today on your above named patient, following the intravenous administration of 21.5 mCi of Tc labeled pertechnetate after the patient had received 6 mgm. of sodium pyrophosphate, containing 1.7 mgm. of stannous chloride with in vivo labelling of the red cells.

Serial images were performed every 5 mins. up to 1 hr. as well as a dynamic flow study, which showed an increased hyperemia throughout the spleen, which appeared to be significantly large. Aside from that there was no evidence of extravasation or any unusual vascular markings.

The static images failed to show any collection in the abdomen which appeared to be extraluminal, and therefore excluding the possibility of a active bleeding.

In the delayed image performed 4 hrs. later, again failed to show any evidence of active bleeding.

IMPRESSION: NEGATIVE G. I. BLEEDING SCAN, FAILING TO SHOW ANY ACTIVE BLEEDING AREA.

DATE OF ADMISSION: 3-31-92

DATE OF DISCHARGE: 4-6-92

This 63-year-old white male was admitted as an emergency because of suspected G.I. bleeding. The patient had been at home and having some problem with his blood count. He came to the office appearing quite pale and feeling weak. He had been on iron for over a year and had not been seen in our office for over a year also.

The patient has a history, prior to this, of having some G.I. bleeding and anemia. He was treated with iron and had a workup which was not conclusive other than the fact that he had a past history of having had two surgical procedures for bleeding ulcers. Upper G.I. showed that he had a Billroth II which seemed to be functioning and he had no signs of bleeding at that time.

It was felt, at this point, that the patient may have some chemical problem which may be causing some bone marrow suppression. The patient had been working Sherman Williams, a paint company and was in contact with Benzine and other chemicals. Because of this, the patient will have a bone marrow before any further testing is done. The patient is also to be seen by Dr. Rizvi, gastroenterologist who worked out the possibility of having some kind of G.I. hemorrhage. The patient, other than his G.I. problems has had no other problem other than his anemia and having received several blood transfusions, having two surgical procedures for his G.I. bleed. The patient's workup in the hospital, when he was admitted, included blood work and urinalysis.

The urine was totally negative. There was no sign of any blood or bleeding in it. He had a stool for occult blood which also came back negative. His hemoglobin, at the time of admission, was 6.1 with a white count of 12.3, platelets 587. His differential showed 68 polys, 2 bands, 23 lymphs, 1 mono and 4 eosinophils. He had anisocytosis of 3+, poikilocytosis of 2+, polychromia 2+. Toxic granulation of the platelets appeared increased. Basophilic stippling was also present.

The patient's subsequent hemoglobins were 6.8 and went down to 5.8. At that point, it was felt that the patient could not wait any longer and he had a blood transfusion. Prior to the transfusion, he had a bone marrow done and his hemoglobin then went up to 9.2 and eventually came down to 8.7 and prior to his discharge, it was at 7.8. The patient's reticulocyte count was

1.2, 1.3. His platelets remained somewhat elevated.

Testing revealed that his potassium was slightly elevated and the patient was not on any potassium. Repeat showed that it came down to 5.0. His glucose was 115. His LDH and SGOT were slightly elevated at 257 and 68 respectively. Repeat showed a sodium was normal. Potassium was also normal.

His hemoglobin continued to remain at the 8.0 level. His ferritin level was 2,910 which is markedly elevated. His iron binding capacity was 235 which is somewhat low. His iron saturation was 96, which was also high. His vitamin B-12 level was 884. His serum iron was 226, which is also on the high side. The patient had been taking iron. He was also given some Vitamin B-12 injections. The patient had a PSA done which was .2. His endoscopy was not revealing for any bleeding at all. The patient's bone marrow will be reviewed by Dr. Orsini and Dr. Scoppetuolo.

His repeat blood work is not back as yet, but the patient was very anxious and would like to go home. Since no further testing is being done at this time, it was decided that the patient could be discharged home, today, 4/6/92, and he will be followed up in the office as an outpatient, on Wednesday, two days from now and he will be given his blood work at that time to re-evaluate, as well as to re-evaluate what is going on with his blood work at this point. The patient is well aware that the diagnosis is not conclusive as of yet and that his blood work is not conclusive and we will be doing further testing as an outpatient. He would prefer that rather than staying in the hospital and doing further studying.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS:

- 1.) Anemia, unknown etiology.
- 2.) Chronic gastritis.
- 3.) Rule out any further hematological problems.
- 4.) Status post G.I. bleed.

M.D.

This is a 63-year-old retired gentleman who I am asked to evaluate because of a severe anemia with a hemoglobin level of approximately 6 grams as reported by Dr. De Mayo.

The patient's history dates back several years ago when he had been evaluated for an anemia with a complete gastrointestinal evaluation by Dr. Rizvi that included an upper GI endoscopy and lower endoscopy, according to the patient. He had been placed on ferrous sulfate since that period of time and has been comfortable up until recently when severe weakness prompted an investigation and an evaluation had shown the hemoglobin level to be significantly low. I have now been asked to evaluate him for considerations for further evaluation and/or possible therapy.

The patient's history also includes a history of anemia with peptic ulcer disease dating back ten years ago, status post surgery, on Tagamet and Zantac since that period of time. It appears that an endoscopic evaluation may have been done some time in 1991 and I do believe it was done by Dr. Rizvi but this will have to be clarified. He has been having increasing epigastric discomfort with no nausea, vomiting, diarrhea or constipation being reported. His stools are always black because of the iron.

SOCIAL HISTORY: He has worked with a number of chemicals including benzene and asbestos as a laborer in a paint factory for some 40+ years.

FAMILY HISTORY: Noncontributory.

MEDICATIONS: As stated above.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION: Finds a chronically ill-looking male who appears to be in some distress with vague abdominal discomfort. The temperature is low grade at 99°, the blood pressure is normal 110/70. The skin is sallow in color. There is no evidence of petechiae or ecchymotic lesions. The eyes, mouth and mucous membranes were relatively negative. The lungs were clear. The heart was normal sinus rhythm. The breasts were negative. The abdomen was soft. There was no tenderness or organomegaly. His testicular examination was negative. The rectal vault was empty. The prostate was enlarged approximately 1-2+. No nodularities. The reflexes and neurological examination were grossly intact.

Checking laboratory tests and x-rays, none of which are available at this time, preliminary labs had indicated the anemia. Further lab tests are pending including folate, B12, serum ferritin, PSA levels, sed rate and reticulocyte count.

I will schedule him for a bone marrow biopsy and aspiration in an attempt to help find the problem. It appears that we are dealing with some chronic intermittent problem which may be related to the GI tract. An AV malformation may be a vague consideration and the working history also may be a consideration. The differential and CBC will help to ascertain this. I will complete the workup within the next 24-48 hours.

Thank you.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS:
SEVERE AMEMIA, ETIOLOGY TO BE DETERMINED.

FINDINGS GROSS:

Premedication: as per anesthesiologist.

INDICATIONS FOR PROCEDURE: Severe anemia. History of occult gastrointestinal bleeding

PROCEDURE: The patient was placed in the left lateral position. The Olympus gastroscope was advanced under direct vision to both the loops of the Billroth II anastomosis. The anastomosis was patent. No evidence of ulceration was noted but there was bile-induced gastritis in keeping with the diagnosis and also free reflux of bile was noted in the esophagus. The esophagogastric junction was normal. No evidence of esophagitis was seen.

IMPRESSION: Patent Billroth II anastomosis. Bile-induced gastritis. Bile reflux. No evidence of ulcer or bleeding noted.

The patient tolerated the procedure well and left the endoscopy room in good condition.

The receptacle labeled bone marrow biopsy consists of a core of tissue that measures approximately 3½ cm which is received in Bouin's fluid and the specimen is submitted in cassettes labeled A and B.

MICROSCOPIC SLIDES REVEIUED:

Multiple sections of the bone marrow biopsy demonstrate areas of dense cellularity with the red blood cells and white cell lines appear normally represented. Throughout there is an adequate number of platlet precursors Throughout the sections there is no evidence of atypical giant cells, granulomata or atypical cells.
