Dear Mr. Jordan:

George Fague requested that I write you with reference to Pydraul 312 which is used at Pontiac.

Chlorinated biphenyls refers to a family of chemical products, some of which are used in our Pydraul product line. Pydraul 312 does contain chlorinated biphenyl, however, we have no evidence that the particular chlorinated biphenyls used in Pydraul 312 are highly toxic to aquatic life.

Monsanto has many studies underway (some for over a year) to determine the effect of the entire chlorinated biphenyl family on environment. Once these studies are completed we will be able to comment further. We hope to have sufficient results in the first quarter of 1970.

Very truly yours,
