Great on our end. The only thing that sticks out to me is that it isn't totally clear whether it is Pruitt or Weathers who will offer the other officials the opportunity to speak before the round table begins. I know that it is Weathers but just want to ensure we prevent any confusion.

Also, I am happy to help corral all of the officials should there be any issues getting them up to the stage in a timely fashion.

See attached - tried to keep it from being too regimental. This will only go to Pruitt, Weathers. Let me know and I'll print this tonight!

FYI - Senator Graham is experiencing travel delays and won't arrive until 10:30 tomorrow morning. They asked us to begin without him.
