CITY BANS SPRAYING OF ASBESTOS

FRANK MC GEE: The New York City Department of Air Resources said today it has ordered an end to the spraying of asbestos in high-rise construction projects. The department said it has evidence that asbestos causes lung cancer and rare chest tumors. A department spokesman said it was the first time a governmental agency anywhere had taken such action against the spraying of asbestos.

SPRAYING OF ASBESTOS PROHIBITED

JOM HARTZ: The New York City Department of Air Resources has called an absolute halt to the spraying of asbestos, commonly used in construction around the city. Medical data show that half of all asbestos workers in the nation die of lung cancer resulting from the spray.
