

Uranium Wealth Of Canada Told

OTTAWA — (AP) — Canada's frozen north is yielding a rich harvest of uranium, mostly destined for the United States.

The crown-owned Eldorado Mining Company disclosed in its annual report made public yesterday that it got more than $1,000,000 worth of atomic-energy raw material out of the northwest territories last year.

This was stirring the company to new drilling activity in northern Saskatchewan and it expected new shafts will be completed by mid-1950.

ations assistant at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, who, on Saturday, Oct. 22, will lead the youth and his family section of the Youth Conference being sponsored by the Vallejo Synoptomist Club at the Vallejo Community Center. Wilbur stressed that consideration of each other in family life is the nucleus around which is built the good relations between neighbors, states, nations and finally bringing about a family of nations in our war weary world.

A panel of six, which will include a father, a mother, a son and a daughter, a representative of the schools and a social worker, will assist Wilbur in establishing youth's responsibility in family life and the relinquishing of parental prerogatives to outside agencies.

Recognizing a shift of emphasis from the home as an effect of war, the panel will attempt to bring into focus the part each must play to fully enjoy and benefit from family life.

ESTABLISH HOME

A graduate of Stanford University and the University of Syracuse where he majored in public administration, Wilbur has been the head civilian employee in industrial relations at Mare Island since his release from the Navy. He first reported to Mare Island in 1934 where as a lieutenant junior grade he was assigned to industrial relations. He is the son of the late Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior during the administration of Herbert Hoover, and until his recent death president of Stanford University.

Wilbur is president of the board of directors of the Family Service, a Community Chest agency, and is also chairman of the committee on city and county housing disposition. After several years of commuting to Vallejo, Wilbur and his wife, Martha, established their home here at 1808 Indiana street in 1947. They are the parents of a son, Ray L. Wilbur, III, and a daughter, Jean. In addition to her duties as housewife and mother, Mrs. Wilbur finds time for P-TA and Red Cross service.

Audience participation during the section meeting will be welcomed and invitations to attend have been extended to all youth in the community as well as to interested adults. The steering committee for the conference is of the six sections of the meeting. Section meetings are scheduled both morning and afternoon and a general assembly will open and close the conference. Reports of conferences from other communities show that youth and his family life have been taken up in all of the other sections, but not as a subject alone. Vallejo leaders felt that family life should be discussed as an individual topic and an unusual interest is being shown in this section.

to Columbia Motor Transport Company trucks at an "undisclosed point" and, according to District Railway Mail Service Lawrence E. Matthews, went "out on schedule."

Odell Smith, local president of the AFL Chauffeurs, Teamsters, Warehousemen and Helpers, said drivers for Columbia would not cross the picket lines. The company has a contract to haul mail during the Missouri Pacific strike.
