Subject: TSCA guidance

Hi Frank,

Robert is out today, so I'm sending this on his behalf. Please attribute to an agency spokesperson.

EPA has not completed new guidance. EPA is conducting a small pilot test of a draft guidance. Once EPA learns from this experience, we intend to release a draft for comment to the broader stakeholder community and the public in advance of a public meeting on the new chemicals program. EPA expects to hold this meeting before the end of the calendar year.

Thanks,
Christie
