Dr. Kehoe,

(Don't bother to answer this)

I received your dignified - and indignant - response to my letter. I hope you don't mind, but I couldn't resist sending a copy of it to Dr. Johnson. It only occurred to me afterwards that this wasn't ethical to do with a private communication and I apologize. So - you may receive a letter from your anonymous critic, in which he identifies himself.

Best Regards and wishes that your "scanty residium" is anything but scanty.
