MR. IGNATOWSKI: That is fine. I just wanted to be sure where it is going to go.

THE COURT: Economic are those items that were specific items discussed in testimony.

The noneconomic are the pain and suffering, disfigurement, humiliation, all of those things.

MR. IGNATOWSKI: Yes, sir.

MR. SHELLENBERGER: Two minor typos. Number 5 should be unreasonably dangerous, at the end on ours.

I just didn't know if somebody was going to retype it.

THE COURT: Yes, you have --

MR. SHELLENBERGER: Mr. Williams was kind enough to point that out.

Below that, if yes to 4 and 5, consider remaining questions, it should be plural.

THE COURT: We have that there as well.

MR. WILLIAMS: I didn't point that one out.

MR. SHELLENBERGER: I got it.

THE COURT: Okay.
