MR. MENDRZYCKI: Objection.

A You always ask long questions. I was involved only as a flunky, the secretary or the guy who took the notes in the meeting where the board of directors selected counsel.

Q Do you recall your being given the task of surveying law firms which had particular specialties in antitrust defense work?

A I surveyed, there is a book, Hubble I believe or some name like that, it was a directory of all the law firms in the United States. But we didn't look at their -- their specifics as far as antitrust law, we were looking for somebody that could handle our job, be at the meetings and do what counsel was asked to do. So yes, I was involved in helping because I had access -- my brother being a lawyer, I had access to the Hubble Martindale or whatever it is book.

Q As part of that effort when you were executive director, did you review any prior FMSI documents or BLMA documents describing past indictments of members?

MR. FRIESTEDT: Objection.

A No.

MR. PURCELL: If I could mark as next in order a document I'll mark as Exhibit P. These are minutes, again, from the FMSI dated June 8, 1959, which would still be
