Donovan, representing the prisoners' families and, according to some reports, the Kennedy administration, met with Fidel Castro for four hours at the presidential palace last night but no sign of progress was indicated.

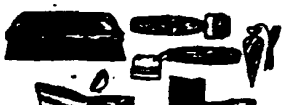

at hand."

On the theme of Christian unity, Pope John said the Church "considers it a duty to work actively so that there may be fulfilled the great mystery of that unity."

The Council recessed until Saturday after a five-a-week morning working sessions with Thursdays and Sundays free. Tomorrow the Pope receives the 85 government and international organizations special missions here for today's opening.
