d. A periodic determination of the dust levels of the plant atmosphere should be made to ascertain the efficiency of the control measures in use.