Hearing on GE Complaint Today

ALBANY (AP)—A hearing will be held here today on a state complaint ordering the General Electric Co. to stop all discharges of an industrial pollutant known as PCB into the Hudson River by next September.

Last month, the State Dept. of Environmental Conservation issued the departmental complaint, charging that GE has been polluting the Hudson River with polychlorinated biphenyls for more than 20 years. The complaint said discharges of PCB into the Hudson River from company plants at Fort Edward and Hudson Falls are threatening the fish populations of the Hudson.
