

2) In your opinion, what is the single-most influential contribution MI has made to foster greater economic choice and individual responsibility?

2b) And/or, what has been its most significant intellectual contribution? What is the "big idea" from MI that has mattered most?

3) What do you hope the "next 40 years" look like for MI?

3b) How might America (or its cities?) look different 40 years from now if MI's ideas are more broadly understood and implemented?

4) What is MI's unique contribution? What differentiates MI from others?

5) Who are your favorite fellow(s) and why?

6) Make any comment that you (the toaster) would like to make (you never know what you get from them)

7) Do you have any thoughts or comments about Larry Mone (MI's President) or Paul Singer (MI's Chairman)?

8) Do you remember your first interaction with MI, its scholars, or their ideas?

9) What wishes do you have for MI for the next 40 years?

10) Would you say that MI's scholars or their work have changed your thinking significantly, on a personal level? Why did you find these ideas compelling or how did they help you see policy/culture differently?

Thank you,

Dean

Ralf,

Yes, everything was perfect with the request form. The Administrator very much wants to participate here so we are just working on determining the best date.

Dean - it is a pleasure to meet you via email. This sounds like a wonderful opportunity. It is very kind of you all to want to include him! Would you be willing to share what questions you would have of him for this video, who all will be seeing it, and when you would like to do the filming?

Thank you very much,

Millan

Hi Millan!

Just thought I'd check in to make sure everything was okay with the request form I submitted last week. As always, feel free to let me know if you need anything further on my part.

I also wanted to introduce my colleague Dean Ball (Cc'd), who is putting together a short 40th Anniversary video to be shown at our annual Hamilton Awards Dinner (to which the Administrator has also been invited). The video would feature interviews with several of our country's most prominent political and intellectual figures discussing their thoughts on MI's past, present, and future; and we'd be honored to include Administrator Pruitt. It would only require about 30 minutes of his time, and we would be more than happy to send someone down to his office to film. If that's something you guys are open to, please feel free to coordinate with Dean.
