Berkeley Church Sued Over Fence

Mrs. Emma C. Probert, 762 Hilldale Avenue, Berkeley, has filed suit in Alameda County Superior Court to force the Berkeley Buddhist Church to remove a fence it built between the church at 2117 Channing Way and her business property at 2113 Channing Way last December.

The action filed by the law firm of Erickson and Erickson claims the church has fenced in a 12-foot strip that has been used over the years as an access drive to store rooms at the rear of the Probert property.

The suit asks that the court order removal of the fence which impairs the value of her property, occupied by the Wild Life Commission offices and a tile company, and establish the 12-foot drive way as an easement and clear title to it as such.
