Do Public Assistance Asset Limits Influence Program Costs and Family Financial Security? Register Now»

Dear Mr. Jackson:

The Pew Charitable Trusts and the W.K. Kellogg Foundation invite you to attend a webinar on September 28 about the latest research on the effects of public assistance program asset limits on states and family finances.

Experts, advocates, and policymakers have long debated the merits of such asset thresholds. Three recent studies—analyzing the effect on program caseloads, state administrative costs, and participant savings when states raised or eliminated asset thresholds—further illuminate this ongoing discussion. The webinar will highlight the findings of that research and provide new insights for those interested in this important public policy issue.
