These photos taken August 1, 1968 show progress over the past five working days.

Photo 1: Looking southeast, shows the roofing installed on the north bay, east side. Two dry valve houses are visible on the east side of the building also.

Photo 2: Looks north from the third floor of Building 28. The most obvious change is in the flaker platform, where forms are in place for the poured concrete floor, visible on the west side of the building at about the elevation of the eave line.

Photo 3 & 4: These pictures pass from the location shown in photo 2 around to looking almost due west. Most of the work in these areas is of a nature that does not show well in the photos.
