

11:00 - 11:15 a.m.	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D.	Immunological and histopathological studies in chemical injury
		a. Antigenic markers
		b. Immunocompetence
		c. Glycosaminoglycan studies in chemical injury and angiosarcoma
		d. Collagen deposition with age and malignancy
11:15 - 11:45 a.m.	H. Philip Fortwengler, M.S. Research Associate	Discussion with investigators and future research
	Charles E. Kupchella, Ph.D. Associate Director
	G. Randolph Schrodt, M.D. Professor of Pathology
	Enrique Espinosa, M.D. Professor of Pathology
11:45 - 12:30 p.m.	Richard A. Greenberg, Ph.D. Professor of Biometry	Medical Surveillance and epidemiological studies in a chemical industrial environment
	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D.
12:30 - 1:45 p.m.		Working lunch with discussion
2:00 - 2:30 p.m.	Richard C. Feldhoff, Ph.D.	Bioassay of potential carcinogens in isolated mammalian liver cells
	William J. Waddell, M.D. Professor of Pharmacology and Toxicology	Tissue and cellular disposition of industrial chemicals
2:30 - 3:30 p.m.	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D. et al	Summary overview New future research activities Open for discussion with all the investigators

VISIT OF THE MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS ASSOCIATION

PROPOSED AGENDA - JUNE 14, 1978

8:30 - 9:00 a.m.	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D. Professor of Medicine	Overview: Relationship between clinical research and Medical Surveillance Program
9:00 - 9:20 a.m.	John L. Wong, Ph.D. Professor of Chemistry	Analysis and synthesis of chemicals and their use in bioassays for the identification of carcinogenic potential
	Uldis N. Streips, Ph.D. Assistant Professor Microbiology and Immunology
9:20 - 10:00 a.m.	Uldis N. Streips, Ph.D.	Discussion with investigators and future research
	Joseph T. Joseph, Ph.D. Research Associate
	Mr. Arthur Chang Research Assistant
	John L. Wong, Ph.D.
10:00 - 10:15 a.m.	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D.	Use of biochemical enzymatic systems for the detection of vinyl chloride and other chemical toxicity in animals and man
		a. Biochemical studies in humans
		b. Animal studies
10:15 - 10:45 a.m.	Julie T. Du, Ph.D. Research Associate	Discussion with investigators and future research
	Richard C. Feldhoff, Ph.D. Assistant Professor of Biochemistry
	John L. Wong, Ph.D.
	Carlo H. Tamburro, M.D.
10:45 - 11:00 a.m.		COFFEE BREAK
