something? What did he say? Do you have that?

BY MR. DeLUCA:

Q Here is his response, Mr. Drislane.

A This is Noel Hendry back to Ernie?

Q Right. September 29th, 1966, he said, "I suppose we have to bear with people who have nothing better to do than to create alarm, but we are not alarmed and we live and sleep with the stuff." That was his response.

MR. MENDRZYCKI: That is not his whole response. If you read the whole letter, you see his whole response.

THE WITNESS: I really know nothing about this, the letter or -- looking back with hindsight, it was a very callous thing for Ernie to say, but looking back with hindsight, I think he was just trying to joke.

BY MR. DeLUCA:

Q You never discussed this with him, did you?

A No.

Q Do you know if he is still living?
