Dear Mr. Scott:

In response to your letter of May 23 regarding Pydraul® AC: This hydraulic fluid contained about 57% of the polychlorinated biphenyl Aroclor® 1254, the balance being an organophosphate ester. Polychlorinated biphenyl hydraulic fluids have not been manufactured since 1971. Specific product literature is therefore out of print. I am enclosing a generic material safety data sheet for polychlorinated biphenyls which may be of interest to you.

Sincerely,

John H. Craddock
