USF Will Open Classes In Postwar Foreign Affairs

To prepare Westerners for the postwar field of trade relations with the Orient, the University of San Francisco's new Far Eastern Affairs night school classes will begin tomorrow night.

The program will consist of classes in language, political policies and cultural backgrounds of China and Japan.

The Rev. Paul W. O'Brien will head the program as a whole, while the Rev. Albert R. O'Hara will conduct the Chinese program and the Rev. Gustave Voss the Japanese program.

Language classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 Monday and Wednesday nights, while political and cultural history of China will be taken up Tuesday nights, and Japan's political and cultural history Thursday nights.
