

SHERWIN

The best house paint we know

SWP has been on the market over forty years. It has a larger sale than any other house paint. It is known all over the world. Indeed, the Sherwin-Williams reputation is built on the success of SWP. We would not dare to compromise its quality.

It is made from the most carefully selected materials. To get the ingredients right, we operate lead and zinc mines and smelters, oil crushers and dye plants-- to be sure of the highest quality.

It is mixed in correct proportions and very finely ground. Fine grinding is as essential to spreading-quality and wear as the right materials.

To get the best job of painting, hire the best painter, have him use SWP and satisfaction is assured.

SWP is economical. It covers a large area, spreads easily, saves the painter's time, and after wearing as long as paint will wear, it leaves a perfect surface for repainting. SWP has been successfully used on over a million buildings.
