Dear Ms. Spencer:

[REDACTED] has a work history of over 29 years as an asbestos worker. Specifically, the claimant was primarily a chemical mixer, which probably involved frequent exposures to excessive concentrations of asbestos dust. The OSHA data contained within the file indicates that both ceiling and long term samples collected were in excess of federal limits.

Dr. Selikoff's diagnosis indicates that the claimant's radiographs "are consistent with pulmonary asbestosis." Such diagnoses are not surprising, especially when one considers that the workers were not protected prior to the OSHA investigation in 1979.

Respectfully submitted,

Neil E. Marquard
