Jan. 5, 1994

note

from: L. O'Neill

to: C. Ross

cc: K. Cahill
C. Beckmann
L. Reeb
G. Penny
C. Norlander

subject: attached Monsanto magazine article

Sorry if we failed to give you a "heads up" on this.

Monsanto Magazine typically seeks reviews of its articles by those most immediately involved or affected as well as the relevant business or function head and my office. Kevin Cahill, our liaison with Queeny plant, and Christy Beckmann, our liaison with Monsanto magazine, did review the attached article (24-hour turnaround).

To help keep you informed in the future, may I suggest one of the following:

1. We make certain that you're alerted in advance to any Monsanto Magazine (or any communication for that matter) with a heavy Chem Group HR component.

2. Or we inform you in advance of all Chem Group stories expected to appear in Monsanto Magazine.

Please let me know how you'd like to proceed, and again my apologies.

From the desk of

Charles A. ROSS, III

Larry O'Neill
Greg Penny
Chuck Norlander

Why don't we see/hear about these before reading them in the magazine?

1/4/94

DSW 135933

STLCOPCB4035902

United We Stand

A unique training partnership between Monsanto's John F. Queeny plant and the International Chemical Workers Union enhances worker safety.

BY JOE SCHUSTER

ILLUSTRATIONS DOUG BOWLES

DSW 135934

STLCOPCB4035903