subject: TechnoStruct, Serenity Sells Emotional Agility Fwd: An opportunity was posted by ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY/RESEARCH TRIANGLE PARK PROCUREMENT OPERATIONS DIVISION today, 2/6/2018 12:25:00 PM.

Following up from our initial introduction email with agility:

This procurement is to produce technical reports that document components of a suite of decision support tools (Decision Landscape Suite) designed to help users meet community and watershed environmental management needs and produce journal article(s) and training materials that demonstrate theory and use of the tools for decision-makers and use cases that are frequently occurring and high-impact on protecting environmental and human health and other ecosystem services.

Questions are due February 13, 2018 by 12:00 p.m. Eastern Time

All offers are due by the time and date specified in Block #10 of Standard Form (SF) 18.

Contact: Sammie Jones

Mosam Sharma,

Thank you for reaching out to me. What do you think of the expression "the menu is not the meal"?

In the front lines of construction, the realities of a fickle client wanting subtle changes on a project, it comes down to emotional labor, the process of managing feelings and expressions to fulfill the emotional requirements of a job. I recently read and recommend a book:

The Leader's Guide to Emotional Agility \(Emotional Intelligence\): How to Use Soft Skills to Get Hard Results
Book by Kerrie Fleming

A Cartesian coordinate plane allows algebra equations to define a mood meter with a number defined in a Johari window and there is an app for a mood meter at Yale for us to utilize this information at the office or at home:

Transactional analysis (TA)

Action Learning is a process that involves a small group working on real problems, taking action, and learning as individuals, as a team, and as an organization. It helps organizations develop creative, flexible and successful strategies to pressing problems.

<https://wial.org/action-learning/>

As a developer of project narratives, solicitor of 'teaming agreements' and fellowships to address technology gaps, executive direction with managerial action learning in weekly, monthly and quarterly reports optimizes what a client perceives on the menu, will indeed be prepared with the emotional labor and emotional agility that is on time and budget.

Enterprise developments as well project narratives in development, as a team is formed, identifying communications gaps between legal, engineering, accounting and other departments is the first step to facilitating an action learning process to address internal office communication as well external dialogs. Here in Austin, Texas there are multiple comedy clubs that offer group courses. When one person on a team has issue with another, and communications begin to break down, projects get delayed.

<http://www.nadta.org/>

Performance appraisals of action learning may be deployed in quarterly reports:

Different Types of Rating Systems for Performance Appraisals

<http://www.brighthub.com/office/human-resources/articles/96180.aspx>

I wanted to convey this by email, with URL links, to more fully explain why I ask what do you think of 'the menu is not the meal'.

As I solicit project narratives or propose teaming agreements, I want you to understand executive capabilities of emotional agility to deploy in action learning and measure with mood meters and performance appraisals.

Sammie Jones of the EPA, my questions entail BMI development questions for Title: Produce Technical

Reports and Training Materials
Reference Number: 68HE0D18Q0023

Environmental Justice and International Affairs questions for the EPA concern the title of this email and the URL for the Steemit article I complied. It has two parts to address many development questions.

From experience with the Department of Justice and departments in Texas concerning oversight in investigations, as from the Texas Rangers, I understand a jurisdiction protocol is in order.

I am exercising my civic duty for Jury duty on February 27, 2018 at 9am.

I am offering my Research questions as this steemit article as well other articles concerning Environmental Justice and International Affairs questions.

As an SBIR soliciting project narratives for graduate professors as fellowships and internships, I am further including Ahmed Mahdy and Rebecca Williamson for further information, offered in research for academic fellowship and internship development in SBA 8(a), TMAC, SBIR or other coordinated project narrative.

I have contacted executive offices at Texas Rare Earth:

<http://tmrcorp.com/>

It was with Dan Gorski.

I am including him in this email as well for follow considerations, coordinating with the EPA.

As I advised Mosa Sharman, please consider this a 2018 first Quarter research and development project narrative script in development. I expect a reply by March 31, 2018 as to develop teaming agreement or to develop upon a project narrative to be of service to our Great state of Texas and to make the United States great again.

Thank you kindly for giving the time to review the article or two from my Steemit account with my handle, Stratus. Thank you kindly for acknowledging I am forwarding the contact I have communicated to honorable US Congressman John Cornyn and UTSA SBDC PTAC Sheriley Smith:
