Dear Mr. Hoover:

Of course, it was a disappointment to get your telegram Saturday, stating that you would not be able to get to Philadelphia before you started West. We can all appreciate your situation, however, and will gladly postpone the meeting until your return. If you could at this time give me the date on which we could figure, we would make our arrangements well in advance to be sure to have just the right people on the job. It's hard to get together the right ones on short notice as you appreciate. Could you do this?

With best wishes for a beneficial trip,

Very truly yours,

ETT:W2
