

1 always working at the garage, anywhere from six to 2 eight mechanics on each shift as well as about the 3 same amount of garage men which was the title Mr. Wood 4 had.

5 There were a total of 150 vehicles at the 6 time that Mr. Wood worked there from 1948 to 1952 and 7 that both of those individuals told you that most of 8 those vehicles, most of the trucks were Ford
9 vehicles.

10 Mr. Carter told you how he changed brakes
11 and as a brake mechanic, remembering back some 50
12 years ago, that he believed that he changed on average
13 anywhere from two to three or one to three, I believe 14 he said, brake jobs a week and that was the same 15 amount that was done by the other brake mechanics in 16 the shop.

17 He also said there may have been weeks where 18 maybe none were done by him, but that was the best of 19 his recollection that he could recall as to the brake
20 work being done at the garage now almost 50 years
21 ago.
