The beginning of the commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the Founding of the First Unitarian Church of Oakland will take place at the 11 a.m. service today. Recognition will be made of the first events preceding the founding of the church 60 years ago when the Rev. Charles W. Wendte, representing the American Unitarian Association, brought together a few men and women in Oakland who sought to "walk together, though not necessarily to think alike." Crompton's sermon today will be on "When the Days Grow Monotonous." A new chancel table, the gift of Miss Alice G. Deyforth, will be dedicated today.

YOUTH

Dr. Noel Keys of the University of California begins the first of twelve lectures tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock on "Youth and Marriage Today." The course of lectures, the only one in the Eastbay open to the general public, is sponsored by the Oakland Council of Churches through its Christian home committee, and will be held on successive Mondays in the First Methodist Church, 24th and Broadway. Assisting in the lectures will be Dr. Vere V. Loper, minister of the First Congregational Church of Berkeley and Drs. Frederic M. Loomis and Clifford Sweet. The fee for the entire course is $5 and further information may be secured from the Council of Churches.

The early morning service will be resumed today at the First Congregational Church, making two morning services; one at 9:45 and the other at 11 o'clock. Dr. Clarence Reidenbach will preach for both services on the subject, "Joseph, the Practical Idealist."

"The Modern Crusade" is the name of the homecoming day program at the First Methodist Church today at 9:45 a.m. The assembly program for the Rally Day observance in the church school will include a dramatic skit, instrumental music, and a film slide story of the Crusade for Christ.

Children graduating from one department to another today in the church school of the Plymouth Congregational Church will receive certificates in a special program, which will begin in each department at 9:45 a.m. Gift Bibles will also be presented to each child entering the fourth grade in school.

The Sunday School of the Arlington Avenue Community Church will open its Fall term this morning at 9:30 o'clock, but only for a part of the group of children. The pre-school children and those in the first ten grades will assemble today in the Fellowship House, but the opening date for the classes of older children has been postponed until arrangements can be completed for a new meeting place. In the meantime, special features for children will be included in the 11 a.m. services of the church, according to the minister, the Rev. Herbert Dimock.
