RE: Vinyl Chloride

I received a call from Mr. Wayne Brooks with information as follows:

1. He was advised today by Mr. John O'Neil of OSHA that there will be no emergency standard on vinyl chloride.
2. A proposed permanent standard will be published in about two weeks.
3. OSHA is sending a team to the Gulf Coast area to conduct on-site informational reviews for the purpose of examining manufacturing practices and developing a realistic proposal for a standard. Goodyear and Shell will certainly be visited. There is a fair chance our Baton Rouge plant will be also.

I have so advised Mr. Quinn.
