ALL PAINT should be well mixed before application. Perhaps the best method is to pour all the paint into a larger container. It should then be stirred with a lifting motion until completely uniform. A strong paddle is best for this purpose. It should be remembered, too, that the paint must be stirred occasionally while being used.

The surface to be painted should be clean and dry. All loose or scaling paint should be scraped or burned off. If there is blistering, all rust from defects that often may have to get behind the paint film should be removed.

It's important, too, that the paint be applied only in good weather — and when it's damp, threats of when there's a likelihood of a sudden temperature drop to near freezing. Outside painting should not be attempted in the late evening, and no surface should be painted when directly exposed to intense sunlight. The paint should be brushed enough to spread it evenly, allowing about one gallon for 500 square feet with it - Primer-Undercoater and 600 square feet for the latch. at.

Nappy streaks or knots should be coated thinly with shellac after the first coat of paint is dry while nail holes and similar defects should be puttied at the same time. In addition, if metal surfaces not usually painted, such as screens and door hardware, are kept varnished, it will avoid the possibility of unsightly staining of the painted surface.

Dutch Boy PAINT in COLORS of

THE PRIMER-UNDERCOATER

This paint is especially designed to be the first coat on both new unpainted wood and old painted surfaces. It seals and holds odds producing a smooth, uniform foundation that adheres firmly to the surface. When the Primer-Undercoater is followed by one of the "Dutch Boy" finish coat paints, you have the ideal two-coat system.

THE BRIGHT WHITE

Made from a special-tested formula, the Bright White hides exceptionally well and produces a dazzling exterior finish that stays white. Its self-cleaning surface sheds unusually readily, and it permits the rain to wash away dirt which may collect. This paint is especially designed as a white finish coat, to be applied over "Dutch Boy" Primer-Undercoater, either on new unpainted wood or on old painted surfaces.

"Dutch Boy" BLENDED Paint

3 Blends for 3-way Beauty Protection

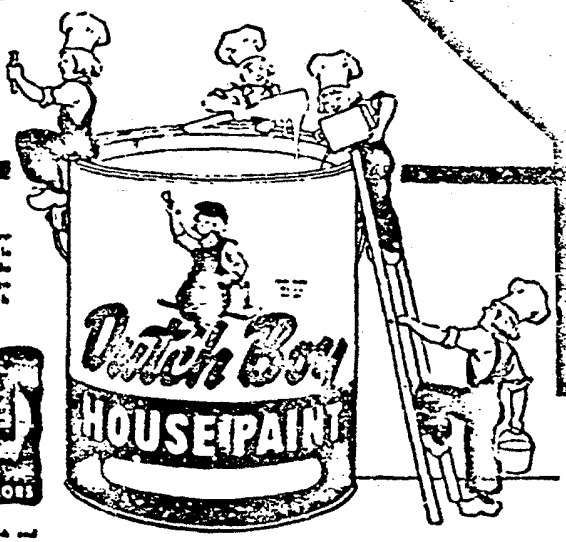

The new "Dutch Boy" Paint is blended three ways to offer the three different types of service required of any good house paint. Each blend is a carefully selected combination of ingredients—specially prepared to do its own job better. Each blend is different, but they are all designed to go on easy and stay on long. Blended to prove that, in colors or white, "Dutch Boy" is Good Paint's Other Name.

"Dutch Boy" Brights. These provide a dazzling choice of brilliant shades. It's a finish that stays color luminous for months—resists weather and fumes—cleans easily. Dutch Boy Brights are made to stay a color true and to stay a color true.

"Dutch Boy" Tints are specially blended to provide those delightful pastel colors that are so popular in fashionable homes. Tints are also blended in true and lasting colors. "Dutch Boy" Tints are all distinguished by their soft and restful beauty. They are specially formulated to stay color true and to stay a color true.

The "Dutch Boy" Dark and Trim Colors are specially blended to provide those handsome deep colors for the painted woodwork, trim and furniture of modern homes. They are also used for painting roofs, barns and other outbuildings. "Dutch Boy" Dark and Trim Colors are specially blended to stay color true and to stay a color true.

A SPECIAL PRIMER, TOO

Primer-sealer is specially blended to form an undercoat of unequalled sealing and hiding properties, underneath old or new paint. It has twice the hiding power of ordinary primers. It is the ideal primer for any of the "Dutch Boy" finish coat paints. It gives an unbeatable foundation for any paint job, either on old wood that's been already been painted, or on new, unpainted wood.
