ve. Closing

ome neighborhood opposition currently generating toward as for the manner in which state division of highways proposing to close the Six-ith avenue turnoff and co-ip in San Mateo at Bayshore eway.

t the same time they are ecting to the city's proposal extend the Bayshore service d southward, utilizing the ndoned portion of the state's nt-of-way, today reported Engineer Robert Bezzant. esidents in the area who e long urged the closing, unanimous council support ne months ago. It made the cial request for the closing the state. The state has al-ys preferred to limit or elim-te such direct tie-ins to free-ys.

Bezzant said in reviewing the oblem, he has urged residents o have any criticisms or ques-ns to meet with him to ex-ine the questions involved.

state to "put together."

At present he said the con-ict for the closing has gone to state to 'put together."

The state's present closing n will consist of extending chain link fence across the ening. It would take out the ved improvements such as mp merging. The area will en be filled with plantings, reening the area, similar to st north and south of the esent opening.

The city engineer has asked e state to go ahead with the osing, but at the same time "keep the door open," so at the city can come in with secondary agrement making it sible to extend the necesary ontage road.

It has been pointed out that th the ultimate development the Nineteenth Avenue re-onal shopping center, the serv-e road must ultimately go rough toward the Nineteenth enue freeway, though that is the far distant future.

The opportunity to take ad-ntage of the state's right-of-ay should not be missed, notes ezzant. It would extend the rvice road to a logical cor-r at Sixteenth, where further tension is blocked by homes. is extension may well serve keep traffic on the frontage ad, as long as possible, rather an to send it through the strict to seek a connection ith Grant and Delaware to onnect with Nineteenth avenue
