Dear Conference Delegate:

May I take this opportunity to welcome you to the Tripartite Conference which will address environmental concerns affecting the vinyl industry worldwide.

It is appropriate that we meet at this time to exchange information and identify actions to be taken as an industry under attack. Since it is obvious that actions taken against us in one part of the world has an ultimate impact on everyone else, it is in our own self-interest to cooperate in our defense. Through pooling our resources and energy, we plan to maintain the viability of PVC in the marketplace for the future.

We hope you have the time to enjoy this beautiful capital city of Washington, D.C. and I wish us all a very productive conference.

Sincerely yours,

RHB/pmb
