Subject: RE: Information on yesterday's disbursements

Good Afternoon,

I wanted to provide the following updates:

First, we have a large set of questions that came in from the Hill (THUD Senate Maj/Min + House Min) on Friday regarding EO Unleashing American energy and DEI. The main focus is getting a sense of the Department's next steps on how we are implementing the EO on Unleashing American Energy and Ending Radical and Wasteful Government DEI Programs. We will work on crafting responses, pulling in the appropriate folks (OST-M, S3, OGC, etc.) (b)(5)

Second, OMB reached out this morning to inform me that they expect a formal memo on EO Unleashing American Energy to come out this afternoon. That memo is government-wide and will provide a template for us to fill out –basically requiring us to take our recommendation memo and distill it into the OMB spreadsheet. (b)(5)

Good Afternoon,

Please see the summary below of disbursements for today, 1/23, and the breakdown of each payment type. Please note that the daily disbursement totals increased by approximately $200m. This is primarily due to FHWA grant disbursements to Texas who requested payment for around $147m today and did not have any requests processed yesterday.

Good afternoon and apologies for the delays.

Below is today's disbursement chart. We were able to obtain a more granular breakout so you can also see contracts but unfortunately we do not yet have the breakout by state and grant program. We continue to work on that—the information is not readily available in our disbursement files so we are actively working with the modes on a way to get this. We will have an update tomorrow on this. Subject: Information on yesterday's disbursements

Good Morning,

I wanted to provide an update on yesterday's disbursements. The total amount disbursed across the Department was over $332 million (this doesn't include payroll and benefits, which happens in a separate process). The total grants—see second column—were $277 million. All other non-pay disbursements were $55 million (this includes contracts, travel, intragovernmental payments like rent to GSA, etc.). The grants to states are subject to the Cash Management Improvement Act—FHWA funding is generally grants to states. CMIA requires state-by-state agreements with Treasury, not DOT. However, generally we are required to pay upon reimbursement request within same-day to 3 business days depending on the Treasury agreement. Other OAs have larger portfolios of grants that go to entities that are not states, such as FAA grants to airports. Non-state grants are generally subject to 2 CFR 200.305 (b)(3): (3), which is for practical purposes similar to Prompt Pay in that we have a 30 day clock to make payments. Generally all other contract non-pay is subject to Prompt Pay Act. The focus on the Executive Order is on Grant disbursements, and the team is concentrating efforts on developing a deeper breakout of Federal Financial Assistance. We have full court press working on a breakout by grant program and state. This is taking some time—I will be in touch later today with an update.
