Q Okay. You-- you are doing fine. I'm trying to find out just what you do recall, Mr. Drislane, about these events.

Other than you believe their going out of the brake lining business, do you recall any other issue or circumstance involving Johns-Manville Corporation no longer wishing to be an active member of the FMSI in this time period?

A No.

Q Then Mr. Gatke becomes president 1973 to '75 and on page 20 of Exhibit C you indicate that the FMSI in June of 1973 honored Mr. Ron Moalli, M-O-A-L-L-I, of Raybestos-Manhattan who had served many years as chairman of the Data Book and Technical Committee and honored Mr. Bob Nelson of the Abex Corporation who had similarly served as chairman on the Brake Performance Study Committee. When you say that these gentlemen were honored by the Institute, how were they honored? Did they receive an award of some type or a banquet or what do you mean?

A Well, they had a banquet of some kind, I believe, yeah. How --

Q I'm sorry, I didn't mean to interrupt.

A Just told them how much we appreciated their
