Re: January 30, 1968 meeting of the American Meteorological Society

Attached for your information is an announcement of the above meeting which you may have missed. I send it to you because the names of Drs. Lodge, Goldsmith, Baagen-Smit and Schaefer are familiar to us as having publically criticized the lead content of the atmosphere in the press and in scientific journals.

If possible, it might be a good idea to attend this meeting.

Very truly yours,

Don G. Fowler

GLOBAL AIR POLLUTION

SEWERS IN THE SKY?

You no longer can ignore air pollution. Global Air Pollution and its immediate and future threats will be discussed at a Science Writers Seminar at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco on January 30, 1968. The date and place coincide with our 48th Annual Meeting but the Seminar is not a part of the Annual Meeting. (For your interest we are enclosing a copy of our 48th Annual Meeting Program.) The Science Writers Seminar is sponsored jointly by the American Meteorological Society and the National Association of Science Writers with the support of the National Science Foundation.

DATE: Tuesday, January 30, 1968, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

PLACE: Jack Tar Hotel (Garden Room) Van Ness & Geary, San Francisco, Calif.
