Membership Roster The American Ceramic Society

This Roster is published only for the convenience of members of The American Ceramic Society. Its use as a mailing list is in violation of federal copyright. Listings are in alphabetical order. New members received too late to be included are listed in the Addenda on page 751. A separate Roster for the National Institute of Ceramic Engineers, showing grades of membership, is on pages 753 and 755 of this issue. These listings give the member's preferred mailing address. Where this is not his business address his company connection is shown in parentheses. Divisions and other Society affiliations are indicated in parentheses following each name, in accordance with the code given below. The absence of any such designation indicates that the member is from outside the United States or a student member, neither of whom has Division affiliation.

B—Basic Science Division
D—Design Division
G—Glass Division
I—Electronics Division
S—Ceramic-Metal Systems Division

M—Materials and Equipment Division
R—Refractories Division
S—Structural Clay Products Division
W—White Wares Division

X—No Division affiliation
F—Fellow of The American Ceramic Society
J—Junior Member
I—National Institute of Ceramic Engineers
C—Ceramic Educational Council

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps involved in the accounting process, from the initial entry of data into the system to the final review and approval of the records.

3. The third part of the document addresses the issue of data security. It discusses the various risks associated with the loss or theft of financial data and provides recommendations for implementing effective security measures to protect the information.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of regular audits. It explains how audits can help to identify errors and discrepancies in the records and ensure that the system is operating in accordance with established standards and regulations.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the role of technology in the accounting process. It highlights the benefits of using computerized systems for recording and processing transactions and provides information on the latest developments in accounting software.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of training and education for accounting professionals. It emphasizes that ongoing education is necessary to keep up with the rapidly changing nature of the accounting field and to ensure that professionals are equipped with the skills and knowledge needed to perform their duties effectively.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of ethical behavior in the accounting profession. It outlines the various ethical challenges that accountants may face and provides guidance on how to navigate these challenges in a responsible and professional manner.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of communication in the accounting process. It emphasizes that clear and effective communication is essential for ensuring that all parties involved in the process are aware of the current status of the records and any issues that may arise.

9. The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of documentation in the accounting process. It explains that thorough documentation is necessary to provide a clear and complete record of all transactions and to support the accuracy of the financial statements.

10. The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of transparency in the accounting process. It emphasizes that transparency is essential for building trust and confidence in the financial system and for ensuring that the records are accessible and understandable to all relevant parties.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for ensuring the integrity of the financial system and for providing a clear audit trail.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps involved in the accounting process, from the initial entry of data into the system to the final reconciliation of accounts.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges associated with maintaining accurate records. It identifies common pitfalls and provides strategies for avoiding them, such as implementing robust internal controls and regular audits.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the role of technology in improving record-keeping. It highlights the benefits of using automated systems and provides examples of how these systems can be effectively implemented.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes by summarizing the key points discussed and reiterates the importance of maintaining accurate records for the success of any organization.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the document has provided a comprehensive overview of the importance of maintaining accurate records and the steps involved in the accounting process. It has also identified common challenges and provided strategies for overcoming them. The role of technology in improving record-keeping has been discussed, and the key points have been summarized.

The document is intended to serve as a guide for anyone involved in the accounting process, whether as a practitioner or a student. It provides a clear and concise overview of the subject and is designed to be easy to read and understand.

The document is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the field of accounting and is highly recommended for all accounting students and professionals.
