Subject: RE: Invitation for Mr. Schwab to Speak at Nuclear Energy Institute Legal Advisory Committee NOVEMBER 14th at 1:45 pm

Thank you for this message.

I plan to discuss EPA's current legal and regulatory priorities/landscape at a general level, but I will also be prepared to discuss (again, in general terms) our regulations and regulatory activity particularly with regard to radiation.

I do not plan to bring slides.

Is 145-215 for my presentation only, or should I include time for Q&A? (I'd much rather do that than simply talk for half an hour, of course!)

For a biography (please tailor to appropriate format/level of detail depending on what the other speakers provide, and please let me know if you would like more information)—

Justin Schwab has served as Deputy General Counsel of the United States Environmental Protection Agency since March of this year. He joined the Agency as legal advisor to the new administration's transition team in January. Before joining the Agency, he practiced law at BakerHostetler in D.C., focusing his practice on environmental and related administrative law. He has clerked for the Second Circuit Court of Appeals and the Utah Supreme Court.

INVITATION FOR MR. SCHWAB TO SPEAK AT THE NOVEMBER 14, 2017 NEI LEGAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETING

Dear Mr. Schwab:

On behalf of NEI's General Counsel Ellen Ginsberg and the entire Nuclear Energy Institute Legal division, thank you for agreeing to speak to the NEI Legal Advisory Committee (LAC) at the upcoming fall 2017 meeting on Tuesday, November 14, 2017. The meeting will be held at NEI's office at 1201 F Street, NW, Suite 1100, Washington, DC (across the street from the Metro Center metro station.)

The meeting is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. through approximately 4 p.m. A copy of the current draft agenda is attached for convenience.

NEI is the organization responsible for establishing unified policies on matters affecting the nuclear energy industry. NEI's members include all entities licensed to operate commercial nuclear power plants in the United States, nuclear plant designers, major architect/engineering firms, fuel cycle facilities, nuclear materials licensees, and other organizations and entities involved in the nuclear energy industry.

The Legal Advisory Committee is comprised of in-house counsel from member companies and attorneys from member law firms with a nuclear energy practice, thus representing a substantial part of the U.S. “nuclear bar.” LAC meetings typically draw around 50 lawyers and often others who are interested in a particular topic. We like to cover an array of timely legal, regulatory, legislative, policy, and litigation issues, and we customarily invite an array of speakers from diverse backgrounds. In addition to hearing from NEI experts, we regularly feature NRC speakers (Commissioners, NRC General Counsel, NRC Solicitor, NRC Regional Administrators, directors of the Office of New Reactors, the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, the Office of Enforcement, and the Office of Congressional Affairs). We also like to go further afield and hear from other Administration and federal agency officials whose policies affect the nuclear industry, e.g., the DOE General Counsel, the Federal Aviation Administration OGC, the Council on Environmental Quality, the National Security Council, Congressional staff, and other federal and state officials. We are pleased that this upcoming meeting will feature leadership from the NRC, the DOE, and (with your presence on the agenda) the EPA.

We have scheduled your presentation to run from 1:45 p.m. until 2:15 p.m.

We would be interested in hearing your perspectives on whatever EPA topic(s) you care to address. As we discussed, a general overview of current EPA legal and regulatory priorities (in whatever level of detail you choose to provide) would be very useful. While NEI members are keenly interested in those federal policies that directly affect their companies, you need not limit yourself to those topics.

Before the meeting:

Please send us a short bio, which will be used to introduce you.

Do let us know if you plan to use slides. If so, we would appreciate having them before the meeting (preferably by noon on Monday, November 13) to add to the master slide deck.

We know you have many demands on your time and truly appreciate your acceptance of NEI’s invitation.

Feel free to contact our division assistant Gia Montserrat (gam@nei.org) or me with any questions.

Cordially,

Anne Cottingham
