REPORT OF SECRETARY

The Secretary briefly summarized his annual report which is attached as Exhibit "A."

In addition to the points covered by his written report, he mentioned that he had just received word from Australia that certain new anti-lead legislation had been passed in Queensland. He mentioned the importance of our cooperation with the Australian lead industry which is represented in the association by the associate membership of the Broken Hill companies, because such legislation, starting in places like Australia, can readily spread to other parts of the world.

He also mentioned that the Industry Committee of the Army Industrial College, mentioned in his report, had been disbanded, and that its activities had been taken over by the Army and Navy Munitions Board, Nonferrous Metals Industry Advisory Committee which met during the current week in Washington. The meeting was purely organizational.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

The Secretary told of his appearance as a witness in the Federal Trade Commission case against the white lead and red lead industries. As the Association has a clean slate and nothing to hide, its testimony should be useful in disproving some of the allegations of the Federal Trade Commission.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

Mr. Crane mentioned that he felt the strength of the Association lies in the fact that it represents both lead producers and consumers. In this he said it is probably unique among Associations, but the principle adopted has proven its worth many times over.

TREASURER'S REPORT

The Treasurer submitted a report of the audit of the accounts of the Association by independent auditors, which is attached as Exhibit "B."

MR. CRANE'S CONTINUANCE AS PRESIDENT

The President reported very briefly that Mr. Wornser had resigned as Secretary, as everyone knew. He said that he had written to the Executive Committee that in view of the change in the office of Secretary, he had volunteered to carry on as President during the transition period and that he had received many kind letters in reply, urging him to carry on.

However, he felt that during the next year, the members of the Association should begin to look around for his successor.
