Sarah,

Happy Thanksgiving. Appreciate your reaching out on a holiday.

Let me try your cell tomorrow and hopefully we can connect.

Secretary Abraham,

My apologies for not being able to connect. My cell is the best place to reach me. I'm between executive assistants at the moment so things have been a bit more chaotic than usual.

I would very much like to connect with you, and can make myself available tomorrow if that works for you. Otherwise, let's find a time next week that we can set something up. I can work directly with your staff if that's easiest for you.

I hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving.

Best,

Sarah A. Greenwalt

Subject: follow up

Sarah,

I have tried calling your main number several times but only got to vmail.

I have some follow up thoughts regarding some of the issues we discussed last week and would like to share them at your convenience. A short call should suffice.

Should I have my associate work with you or your designee to set up a call or should I try your cell. I have refrained from the latter but am happy to call you on the cell if that is more convenient.

Please let me know.

Best,

Spencer Abraham
